

MY VISION OF 2030

In the year 2030, I hope the world feels more connected, not just through the internet but by their hearts. I would like to imagine cleaner streets, greener Earth and skies so clear that one could gaze upon the stars every day, a world where neighbors know each other by name. Where people will be more concerned about their planet and will care more about it, and work together to make it a better place starting from, planting trees, controlling the air pollution level by choosing to walk the short distances instead of using vehicles, recycling waste and conserving the natural resources. I dream of a world where people are more respectful towards each other, where they will make others feel appreciated, where kindness, honesty and creativity will be the new beauty standard, where children can be children again. I wish for a world where people listen more to nature, to each other and to themselves. For me, the future is not about smart robots, AI or flying cars, it's about building a happier, safer place which is so full of love. The year 2030 isn't far. If we start today with small steps, big dreams and even bigger hearts, maybe we can create a future filled with hope, harmony, and heart.
