

The Qutub Minar

The Qutub Minar in Delhi is very tall, like it is trying to poke the sky with its pointy top! It's like a giant, old candy cane that never got eaten, perhaps because it's made of stone and not tasty sugar! Perhaps all the birds in Delhi use the Qutub Minar as their special lookout tower, like it's a giant birdhouse lollipop. If the Qutub Minar wanted to wear a hat, it would need a tiny one, like a little sprinkle on the candy. It looks like a chocolate candy with a shield design guarding the city of Delhi!

Raghav Ahuja 2-J