

THE SECRET WARDROBE

It was raining. The children were playing, when Nancy, hiding in an old wooden wardrobe, felt different. She saw a light at the back. “Hmm... what's that?” She moved aside and opened the hidden door.... Poof! She was no longer in the wardrobe. She was standing in a magical forest with talking animals, glowing flowers and floating cupcakes.

A Smiling bunny hopped up to her and said, “Welcome to wonderland, Nancy! We need your help.” “Me?” Nancy asked surprisingly.

Our rainbow has lost its colors! Nancy looked around and saw a dull rainbow in the sky. She agreed to help and followed the bunny. They found the missing color hidden by a cloud. Nancy made the cloud cough and the cloud happily gave the colors back.

As soon as the rainbow was bright again the forest became alive with music and laughter. Thank you, Nancy! Cheered the animals. Suddenly Nancy felt a whoosh! She was back in the wardrobe. Aunt called time for dinner. Nancy smiled. No one will believe I saved a rainbow! But deep inside, she knew the magic was real.

Moral: Helping other brings colour and Joy to the world.
